

Library Use Increases As Classes Open Again

Public use of the five libraries serving Torrance was up about 10 per cent in September, 1965, over September, 1964, according to a report on circulation just released by County Librarian William S. Geller.

Geller said the five Torrance libraries circulated a total of 48,289 books and periodicals, compared to 44,396 for September, 1964.

Largest increase in the city occurred at the North Torrance branch and at the Isabel Henderson branch serving West Torrance. Patrons completed 8,248 transactions in North Torrance, compared to 6,111 last year. Circulation totaled 10,555 at the west Torrance branch, compared to 9,005 last year.

The largest circulation continues to be reported by the Downtown branch, which loaned a total of 15,287 books and periodicals during the month. Other branches include El Retiro, 7,779, and Walteria, 6,420.

The Lomita library showed only slight increase over

September, 1964. Totals showed 5,888 transactions this year, compared to 5,659 last year.

Figures for the three branches serving the Carson-Dominguez area also showed slight gains, while the Villa Carson library, a children's branch, reported a decline in circulation from 2,835 in September, 1964, to 2,068.

Circulation at the Dominguez branch was 2,490. Carson Library completed 9,111 transactions.

Geller said circulation increased about 6 per cent throughout the county, due in large part to the opening of schools for the fall term.
